

FIRE BY NIGHT

Exodus 13:21–22
aka: When God Lit the Way

When the Israelites left Egypt, they didn't have a map, a plan, or a clue what came next. The road ahead was wide open and completely unknown. But even in the uncertainty, God was there. By day, He appeared as a cloud. By night, as fire, bold, bright, impossible to ignore.

A pillar of flame stretching through the desert sky, lighting their path, keeping them warm, and reminding them that they weren't wandering alone.

Because that's who God is. When we can't see what's ahead, when everything around us feels dark or bleak, He's still there, steady, faithful, guiding us one step at a time.

Fire by Night is a reminder that even when you're unsure where you're headed, you're not lost.

You just have to look for the light and trust the One who still leads through the dark.
